PUNCH INDUSTRY USA INC.'s Response to the Covid-19 Outbreak and Status as an Essential Supplier

Dear Valued Customers:

In order to support our customers who are essential businesses in the Medical, Pharmaceutical, Food & Beverage and other industries, PUNCH INDUSTRY USA INC. continues to operate as usual. We are following all recommendations from state, local and federal governments, including working at home when possible, and taking proactive measure to keep our essential employees safe by taking extra cleaning precautions and practicing social distancing within our office.

As a supplier in the injection molding, stamping and medical device industries, our customers have deemed us an essential business and are counting on us to continue the distribution of our parent company's tool and die components in order to support our American customers in the fight against the Covid-19 virus.

Sincerely,
